THOMPSON STREET CAPITAL PARTNERS FORMS VETERINARY TECHNOLOGY GROUP

ST. LOUIS (March 20, 2015) – Thompson Street Capital Partners (TSCP), a private equity firm based in St. Louis, announced today that it has partnered with management to acquire a leading veterinary medical device company. The company will serve as the core of TSCP’s newly-formed Veterinary Technology Group (VTG), which will be comprised of businesses providing veterinary technology, medical devices and related consumable products.

Said Jim Cooper, Managing Partner, TSCP, “We’re excited to take this first important step in building our VTG platform. Our core company’s line of technologically-advanced therapeutic devices provides excellent outcomes in the care of animal patients and has a well-deserved reputation for efficacy, quality and customer service. We are looking forward to building upon this company’s success as we expand our Veterinary Technology Group of companies to effectively address a broad range of veterinary medical issues.
